CROSSROADS STRAIGHT AHEAD CAMPUS LIFE LEFT FOR ORGANIZATIONS_3 MI. CLUBS-TURN

FOREWORD

The life of a year book to the underclassman is short—a few days perhaps; but to the graduate, its lifetime matches his own. In the years to come when MILESTONES become fond recollections let this book embody all the life and spirit of the belles. An ideal belle is the spirit of Ward-Belmont; she aims high toward a perfect goal. Be justly proud of all the fine traditions and the rich heritage that Ward Seminary and Belmont College, both component parts of Ward-Belmont, have handed on to the present school, its students, and Alumnae. • The staff attempts to present the school as it really exists, depicting each milestone by which a girl must pass during her years at Ward-Belmont. In doing so we have made MILESTONES a part of us and of every Ward-Belmont girl, present and past.

CAPTAIN VERNON M. NELSON

Captain Vernon M. Nelson was formerly associated with Ward-Belmont as its business manager. He came to the school in the spring of '46 and left the summer of '50. Captain Nelson's former home was Chicago, and he attended Northwestern University at Evanston.

Captain Nelson joined the Reserves three years ago and reentered the service last August when duty called. Formerly he had served overseas in Africa, Italy, England, France, and Germany; this year he has been on active duty in Japan.

In Memoriam

MISS ANNIE CLAYBROOKE ALLISON

The passing of Miss Annie Claybrooke Allison, former principal of the Ward-Belmont preparatory school, will be deeply felt by all who knew her. "Miss Annie," as she was better known to the thousands of girls whom she taught, became principal in 1927 and held that office until her retirement in 1945.

A true belle of Ward-Belmont, she will always be remembered for her kindness, her thoughtfulness, and her personal interest in each girl.

A guiding inspiration to the students of Ward-Belmont is Dr. Provine, president of the school •

He is active in school affairs and takes a personal interest in its activities. At all meetings and business functions he is present to be of helpful assistance. He attends all socials to join with the girls for entertainment. • Dr. Provine has an outstanding personality for the position he holds, and Ward-Belmont is proud to have him as its president.

ADMINISTRATION

MISS MARTHA ORDWAY

The southern charm of Miss Martha Ordway is the highlight of her personality. For southern charm indicates everything that is thoughtful, kind, courteous, and gracious. She has made our stay at Ward-Belmont a pleasant one; for no one else could be more ideally suited for the tough job of being Dean.

To her we owe our devoted thanks for the many things she has accomplished for us, and for the friendly advice to all our problems. Loved and respected by all the Ward-Belmont girls, Miss Ordway will always symbolize our ever growing loyalty to Ward-Belmont.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE ALUMNAE SECRETARY

DEAN CHILES VAN ANTWERP

This radiant personality is the center of all the scholastic activity. The girls look to him for help and guidance on all their problems. He is an inspiration to all those who are fortunate enough to come into contact with him. On meeting him one never fails to receive a friendly smile and welcome. The Dean is one of the most important figures on the Ward-Belmont campus, and one of the most respected.

MISS MARY ANN MOORE

During her second year as Alumnae Secretary at Ward-Belmont, Miss Mary Ann Moore has worked long and hard. Through the guidance of the attractive Ward-Belmont alumna, each graduate keeps in touch with campus life. Miss Moore, with her enthusiastic spirit and friendly smile, has also endeared herself to the undergraduates.

MRS. SUSAN SOUBY

For the past six years the Preparatory School has been conducted under the very capable guidance of Mrs. Souby. Loved and respected by everyone for her charming manner and her deep personal interest in each girl, Mrs. Souby has become a vital part of Ward-Belmont.

DEAN WERNER ZEPERNICK

Completing his first year as head of the conservatory of music is Dean Werner Zepernick. Mr. Zepernick came to W-B from Bradley University and Eureka College where he served as head of the Departments of Piano.

Although Mr. Zepernick has been at W-B only one year, he has already made a place for himself on the campus. His pleasing personality and winning smile make him a well-known figure. In addition to teaching piano, music theory, and music history, Dean Zepernick is the sponsor of Mu Sigma Phi.

PRINCIPAL OF PREP SCHOOL CHAIRMAN OF THE MUSIC FACULTY

REGISTRAR DEAN OF ADMISSIONS

MISS MABEL FLETCHER

Friendliness and charm are the qualities which have endeared Miss Fletcher to everyone on the Ward-Belmont campus. Because of her smile and pleasing manner, she is a great asset to the school and is loved by all the girls. She is friendly toward everyone and in spite of her busy schedule, she always has time to stop and chat. Miss Fletcher is well suited as registrar, for she seems to have a special way of making the new girls feel right at home.

Truly, she is a wonderful part of Ward-Belmont, and without her it would not be the same.

MR. CHARLES BARLOW

Congenial and zealous well describe Mr. Barlow, Dean of Admissions and Director of Public Relations. Ward-Belmont owes a great deal to him for his ability to handle his job well and effectively. He has endeared himself to all those of the Ward-Belmont campus by his genuine interest in all its activities.

DANGER

As we look over this MILESTONES and scan the faces of girls we may never see again, it is almost impossible for us to forget the enterprising Senior Class of 1951. With such zeal did they pursue each activity, and with such warm-heartedness did they deal with their fellow students, we may find that their aim is one we would like to employ in our everyday living just as they did. "The past is gone; seize today." That motto carried the Seniors of 1951 through each Senior-Senior-Mid Day with the undaunted spirit, and irreproachable sportsmanship that gained the admiration of everyone.

So full a year did these Seniors live that each one looks back on it with tender smiles and a longing to relive it on the same friendly campus and with the same warm friendships. The Senior challenge, George Washington's birthday, the Senior week-end, May Day, and Graduation all leave a fond memory with each Senior. But even with all of these memories, the Seniors find plenty of room to remember and love all of the Mids and high school friends who contributed to their happiness. Every indication of cooperation and friendly word is cherished in the heart of each Senior, and will live there for many years to come.

So with heavy heart but a light spirit, the Seniors of 1951 left the Ward-Belmont campus to return again only in memory. Each black-robed girl who stepped up to receive her diploma will hold Ward-Belmont as a symbol of something fine, something good, something to be cherished forever!

Where are George and Martha?

In reviewing the past nine months, the story of the Senior-Mids is one of new experiences, new friends, and new interests in their "green" year of college. Sharing rooms with a stranger who soon became their best friend, selecting a social club, and having college schedules were all new to these girls representing every state in the Union and several countries. There were team sports and academic clubs to keep them busy, and there were formal dinners, club dances, and class parties to entertain them. On Senior-Senior-Mid Day the class united to take on the Senior Class in all sport events, they answered the Senior Challenge with a skit, they honored the Seniors at a "Show Boat" Dinner, and they did their part to make May Day a rememberable occasion. Their hearts held loyalty and pride for their school, and they shared all the joys and the heartaches of their Alma Mater.

A precious part of the Seniors has been given us and will linger forever in the memory of those who endeavor to hold high the standards and traditions of Ward-Belmont.

With fight, pep, and enthusiasm they met the juniors in class competition. This same amazing drive let them make a glorious success of their Senior Prom.

Their kind hearts, pleasant ways, and careful guidance during orientation and throughout the year have led the underclassmen to a heartfelt desire to follow in the Senior's footsteps.

From the first class bell until the final strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" died away, the Seniors of 1951 radiated the essence of their high ideals.

PREPARATORY UNDERCLASSMEN OFFICERS

Freshmen. sophomores, and juniors: These are the Prep underclassmen. These are the girls who will one day fulfill their ambition and become Seniors. But meanwhile these underclassmen are building up their ideals and courage which will carry them to their final year. Without their zealous participation in all the activities of campus life the High School would be at a loss. Their loyalty and spirit leaves nothing to be desired, and it helps to make the High School the great organization it is.

While the Seniors are the big class on campus, one cannot overlook this wonderful group: the Preparatory Underclassmen. For included in this group, the Juniors furnish stiff competition for the Seniors on Junior-Senior Prep Days. The enthusiasm and pep of this class cannot be outdone. The High School Underclassmen deserve our sincerest congratulations for making this a year of achievement and one that has been a challenge for us all.

ORIEN

The Orientation Committee did a fine job of acquainting this year's new girls with W.-B. All its activities were carefully planned down to the most minute detail.

The old girls met the trains, and made the new girls feel right at home. Big Sisters immediately took charge of their little sisters by taking them to meals, introducing them to the old girls, and helping them in every way possible.

The committee had charge of a campus tour which acquainted the new girls with the campus, its history, and its customs. Discussion groups were held concerning the Blue Book.

The committee had some activity planned for every minute of the day. These activities were vital in helping to make the first week easier for the new girls. The entire Orientation committee deserves credit for a job well done.

FAG DAY

On September 17th at 5:30 PM, a dinner opened traditional "rushing." The ten clubs held formal receptions following this dinner, thus enabling the new and old girls to become acquainted. All the clubs held "open house" until Wednesday. On that day, new girls assembled in chapel and signified their choice of clubs. The following Monday, the girls gathered in Acklen Hall to receive their invitations. Immediately after this, the club houses were opened to welcome the new members. Each new girl was taught her club songs, and was told to prepare for the next day which was "fag" day. "Fag" day each new girl had to have a costume to represent her club, and was to awaken her big sister at 7:00 A.M. From 7:00 to 8:30 A.M. each club tried its best to "out do" the others by singing and frolicking. All through the day, each new member had to give a speech on "How Proud She Was To Be In Her Club." This continued until 5:00 P.M., which brought "fag" day to a close, a day that will long be remembered.

FUN AND FROLIC

After all the work is done there is still much time left for fun and frolic. This is the part of W.-B. life that the girls look forward to anxiously. Constituting the main events of the year were the Halloween dinner, the Christmas teas and parties, the Valentine Dinner, Washington's Birthday Celebration, the Senior Prep Prom, the Senior and Mid dances, and May Day. Also the club dances and week-ends which were scattered throughout the year were thoroughly enjoyed by all. These and many more are the things that go to make this year at W. B. an unforgettable one.

SENIOR WEEK

Probably the most eventful week in the whole school year was the Senior week. This week was the one in which the Seniors gained recognition for their attributes and first felt the "wind in their sails." The week started for the Seniors with an assembly in which a panel told the school of the class ideals. The Wednesday chapel was led by Ann Cox whose theme was "Alone we struggle in darkness: together we find the light." This talk alone inspired not only the Senior class but every other student in the assembly to do her finest and to cooperate with others.

The week was ended with the Senior picnic, a fabulous affair. The campus fairly shook with the merrymaking Seniors, frolicing in club village, full of fried chicken and fun. And with this last surge of spirit, the Seniors saw the end of their week, determined to make the rest of the year just as inspiring and as spirited as the week set aside for its recognition, and once more peace and quiet reigned on the Ward-Belmont campus and regular educational procedures were resumed without shouts of vibrant spirit from passing Seniors.

The Senior Preparatory Class of 1951 were officially recognized during their long awaited Senior Week. The aims of the class were presented by the officers on Monday, and on Wednesday, Carolyn Holiman elaborated on the spiritual aspect of these aims. That week bright blue Senior caps, and shining Senior smiles could be seen dotting the campus. Throughout the year the class continued to carry out its theme of action rather than passive acceptance.

Starting off the jolly and sincere yuletide spirit, which is so strong here at W.-B., was Holiday Inn, an annual party and program given by the A. K. Club. Then came the play given by the Speech Department, entitled "Come Let Us Adore Him." The music program by all the music organizations, the servants party and Faculty parties, such as the Anti-Pan Faculty Tea, and the Tri-K Breakfast, were all a part of the joyous Christmas spirit. Charitable projects undertaken by the social clubs included trips to the Industrial Home for Boys and orphan parties on the campus. These helped us to have the true "sharing" spirit of Christmas.

February the twenty-second was a gala occasion to which all Ward-Belmont looked forward; for dressed in powdered wigs and colonial costumes, the seniors celebrated the birthday of George Washington. They descended the impressive stairs in Acklen Hall followed by George and Martha Washington, portrayed by Ridgely Duvall and Ada Marie Oakley. In their honor a banquet followed in the dining room, and a program was held in the gymnasium. This program, open to the public, consisted of a ballet presented by the dance department, and the traditional minuet danced by the seniors. The evening was a colorful one, displaying the pageantry of the old Colonial Days.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

Junior-Senior Day is one day all Junior and Senior preps will remember—a day that is sad to some and happy to others. The day, April 20th, started off with a parade. The Junior parade was entitled "Record Hits," and the Seniors, "Adventures in Senior English."

The Seniors won the parade, tennis, and archery, but they were defeated in softball. The ever peppy Juniors won the cup.

Even though they are battling for the cup, the Juniors and Seniors have a deep and everlasting respect for one another. And for one another they have a hidden feeling that only we at Ward-Belmont know exists.

SENIOR-SENIOR

The twentieth of April found Seniors and Mids alike full of the enthusiastic spirit which had been so prevalent the entire year. Early in the morning the campus was filled with yellow and white streamers, slogans, posters, and purple and white streamers. By nine o'clock both classes were ready to begin. The Mid parade was first: following through the theme, "This is America." The "Spirit of Seventy-Six," the good old American favorites—hot dogs and soda pop, and American politics were represented. Their final float featured the thirteen American colonies, with a girl to represent each.

Following the Mid parade came the Senior parade and one worthy of the day. The theme carried through "Yesterday's Traditions: Today's Heritage." All occasions of the year were represented by the month, starting with Orientation and rush, following with such occasions as Senior Christmas caroling, King and Queen of Hearts, even May Day and graduation! The final Senior float was done in light blue with a huge gold bell. Three girls representing the religious, academic, and social life at Ward-Belmont, were on the float. The chimes played the "Bells of Ward-Belmont" as the float went around the circle.

as the float went around the circle.

The athletic contests of the day included tennis, archery, and softball. The Seniors won the tennis and softball with the Mids taking the archery. Tension mounted as both classes arrived in the dining hall. All through the meal hungry Seniors eagerly awaited Dr. Provine's announcement of the final count. The Senior Class of '51 had once again earned the cup—a triumph which was well deserved and one that will never be forgotten!

Among the sweet-scented magnolias, Ward-Belmont presented the annual May Day with all its colorful pageantry. Hundreds of local and out-of-town visitors packed the stands to watch the breath-taking procession. The white-gowned Prep Seniors were followed by the pink, blue, and green pastels of the College Seniors. The horse-drawn carriages approached along the shrouded drive bringing the Queen, Betsy Markley and her attendants, Carolyn Stutz, Mary Ann Cooper, Ann Sory, Doris Ann Creagh and Cissie Collings.

Following the crowning ceremony, the underclassmen participated in a varied program of dances concluding with the traditional May Pole dance.

Later in the evening the Senior Class held a May Day dance in the beautiful Acklen Hall. It was a fitting close to a very beautiful Spring day.

AGORA CLUB

Under the capable leadership of their co-presidents, Norma Jean and Barbara Ann Locke, and their enthusiastic sponsor, Shannon, the Agoras have made the year of 1950 and '51 one of outstanding accomplishments.

The fun began on Fag Day with the Agora's dressed as slaves. After initiation the activities for the year were under way. Among the events of the social calendar was the "Esquire Club" dance, and other memorable activities were the hilarious weekends at Rawlings, plus the Wednesday night dinners and informal meetings at the club.

The Agoras participated whole-heartedly in all the activities of the year. They tied Tri-K in hockey, and kept the hockey cup as it was for the third consecutive time, and they were very active in all other athletic events.

Many outstanding personalities on the campus were members of Agora. Among them were Ann Cox. president of C.G.O.; Peggie Dismuke, president of the Spanish Club and Secretary of C.G.O.; Dianne Dorton, president of the Senior Class; Ann Brannin, president of the Mid Class; and Hazel Maxwell, president of Naiades.

This very exciting and eventful year was climaxed with the club banquet. This year has been one long to be remembered by all the Agora girls.

A. K. CLUB

The prominent place at the foot of the tower is taken by one of the friendliest club houses on campus. The AK's were proud to welcome Miss Dot Lancaster as their sponsor. With pride they pointed to these prominent members: Diane Brown, president of the College Y.W.C.A.; Barbara Crockett, member of Phi Theta Kappa; Grace Thompson and Nadine Eastin, Mu Sigma Phi; Pat Murphy was day student vice-president of the Mid class. These names were just a few of the AK bunnies that jumped wholeheartedly into club sports and activities.

The true holiday spirit was shared with all of the campus in the annual "Holiday Inn" given by the club. Also a glorious sox hop was enjoyed by all in the month of November.

Companionship and talent were interwoven with the warmth and the good-humor to bring the close feeling of club sisterhood and understanding girls from East to West. There was always a good time to be found at Club house nine, the Rabbit House!

ANGKOR CLUB

The Angkors had an enthusiastic and successful year under the leadership of prexy Emily Fletcher and sponsor Mrs. Fountain; the Angkors captured some of the highest honors on the campus.

The Blue and White were proud to boast of their members. Among the outstanding were Karin Dale, President of the Junior Class; Marilyn McDaniel, Secretary of the Junior Class; Ann Harwell, President of the Freshman Class; Frances Cheek, Treasurer, and Judy Brooks, Sgt.-at-Arms of the Freshman Class; Harriet Provine, Nell Maxson, and Emily Fletcher were members of the Ward-Belmont Honor Society.

Hockey, basketball, and baseball were well represented by Lee Ann Allen, Georgia Rice, Rebecca White, and Martha Ann Barrick. Punky Farrell, Beth Henderson, and Susan Thomas mastered their skill in tennis.

Angkor claims these five Penstaff members: Harriet Provine, Vice-President; and Marilyn McDaniel, Kay Russell, Nancy Frederick, and Harriet Anderson.

It was a great year for the Angkors, one of which to be proud. The everlasting spirit and teamwork of Angkor this year determined their success for years to come.

ANTI-PANDORA CLUB

Ancient legends reveal the fact that all troubles of the world were released upon mankind by Pandora, an ever curious damsel existing only in myth. Instead of creating disaster, the Anti-Pans avoid it by uniting themselves into an organization of talent and spirit for the betterment of their club and their school.

The Anti-Pans proudly claim such outstanding figures of the campus as: Carolyn Tompkins, Editor of the MILESTONES, and President of the "Curtain Callers"; Jeanne Jacobs, Chapel Proctor, first semester, and Betty Woods, the second; Carol Emerson, President of the High School Student Council; Ada Oakley, Martha Washington; Gayle Shoemaker, President of the Music Club; Gloria Richardson, MILESTONES Associate Editor, and Vice-President of the Naiades; as well as Mary Jane Bumpous, President of Hail Hall: Frances Black, Proctor of Heron Hall: and Joyce Hansen, Proctor of North Front. Members of Phi Theta Kappa, included Betty Woods, and Ann Bolin; and members of Mu Sigma Phi, Gayle Shoemaker, Betty Woods, and Mary Ann Wachel. Finally, the beloved President, Lovelyn English, who was managing editor of the MILESTONES and ever present along with her was the zealous sponsor, Miss Mary Ann Moore. Together they worked untiringly for Anti-Pan.

Activities included club week-ends, a faculty tea, an orphans party, and dances, including a Valentine dance in Acklen Hall. Other achievements such as being a ceded team in Hockey showed that as long as the club exists, it will represent all that mythical antagonist is not.

ARISTON CLUB

The Aristons, under the capable leadership of Virginia Tipton, their president, and Mrs. Mann, their sponsor, had a very successful year in the fields of both scholarship and athletics.

Scholastically speaking, the Ariston Club was well represented in Penstaff, the Ward-Belmont Honor Society, and the Chimes staff by Barry Bennett, Ruth Eleanor Corn, and Martha Foutch. Kay Alexander, Caroline Gregory, and Beverly Hackman were members of the Glee Club.

Beth Blackard, Patricia Ingram, Nancy Perry, Jane O'Callaghan, Penny Creighton, Ann Ford, Nancy Holt, and Sandy Travis added to the success of the Aristons in athletics, with Joan Askew, Donnie Berger, Amelia Spickard, Gertrude Sharp, and Jo Anne Manley leading the cheers.

Sarah Sharp and Susan Moore held class offices.

Becky Jane DeWitt, whose great grandfather was the founder of Ward's Seminary, was an Ariston.

All in all, members of the Ariston Club participated in every phase of Ward-Belmont campus life.

DEL VERS CLUB

Gazing across the campus you can always see yellow and white jackets adorned with the D.V. frog. One of the proudest wearers is president Mary Connelly, who so capably led the D.V.'s through a memorable year.

Spurred on by their vivacious sponsor, Penny Mountfort, D.V. has made its place on the campus.

On their social calendar were two formal dances, a Christmas orphans party, club weekends fun at the sisters club party, a picnic, and an all club breakfast.

D.V.'s took part in many campus activities. Among the "frog" celebrities were Alice Jane Hinds and Daisy Wade, secretary and treasurer of the college Y.W.C.A.; Emmy Evans, Vice-President of the A.A. and general club sports manager; Ann Zedler, treasurer of Round Table, softball manager of A.A., and Senior Class cheerleader; Louise Cronenwett, Chimes Staff; Nancy Miller, Rosic Fortier, Patty Hardin, Laura Walker, and Norma Mc-Kean, member of Naiades; Franny Flack, president of the Home Ec. Club and sergeant-at-arms of the Senior class; Martha Hackworth, king of hearts and secretary of the Home Ec. club; Micky Fobes, secretary of the high school Senior class; Rosie Fortier, secretary of the high school council; Laura Blackburn, Heron Hall Fire captain.

The Del Vers closed their club house door on a wonderful and happy year that they will never forget.

ECCOWASIN CLUB

You cannot enter the Day Student Club House without seeing many loyal Eccowasins, and foremost, the president of this club, Sissy Roberts, who is outstanding in all sports, especially hockey.

The Eccowasins have leaders in other sports too. This year's tennis singles was won by Connie Stevens who defeated another Eccowasin, Grace Ward, to gain her title. A leader in swimming is Jill Jakes and in bowling, Corinne Scales.

The club took a Thanksgiving project by helping a poor family. Lovely baskets were prepared in order to give the family an enjoyable Thanksgiving Day.

In still other fields the Eccowasins ranked high. These were in their scholastic record and their citizenship. For the past two years they have been proud to receive the citizenship cup, and again this year. Also such names as Polly Morgan, Debby Luton, Evelyn Buford, and Marrieta Eggleston are sure to be found on the honor roll.

Two senior members had the honor of being officers of their class. They were Dot Johnson, vice-president, and Polly Morgan, day student treasurer.

Each Eccowasin girl is proud of her club, and showed it by her club spirit and her participation in all activities, thus making them a fine, united group.

F. F. CLUB

There is always one club everyone on campus looks to as an athletic club or an academic club, but when one looks for an all around club on campus one looks to F.F., and there they find the most spirited and friendliest club on campus.

All these girls work together to become a unit of sports, academic work, and friendship.

The president, Betty Lynn Walter, with her traditional smile and gay laughter is always known as "our gal." Lue Eddie Diver is another one of F.F.'s girls who always has a happy and cheerful attitude.

All the girls in F.F. are the same whether they win or lose. They are always smiling and in that aspect always winning.

A line in the club song, "Our paths may sever, F.F.'s remember forever . . ." truly exemplifies the love of each and every member for this much loved and admired club.

OSIRON CLUB

"Beauty and honor, you've taught us to love and esteem," will always be heard echoing through the rooms of club house number 7 which all Osirons claim so proudly. These ideals have been interwoven into all our memories of club activities and have been the main factor in binding us together, one-to-another during our club week-ends and all our activities on the campus.

Every girl in Osiron will be remembered for at least one outstanding quality: but above all stands our most treasured member, Anne Sory, our president. Special recognition should also go to our secretary, Susan Kidd; for her loyalty and friendliness can never be surpassed.

Maryann East will also always remain in the memories of Osirons as the girl with the "get-up-and-go," and the girl who led us to so many victories in all the fields of sports.

Last, but not least, our memories will always linger on Polly Fessey, our sponsor, the inspiration for living up to the ideals which we set as our goal—Ever loyal, ever popular, Polly, to whom we owe so much.

PENTA TAU CLUB

Led by the ideal combination of Miss Kelton, Sponsor, and Betty Elrod, President, the Penta Tau's achieved a year of club life never to be forgotten. Club house number five seemed to hold some intangible spell over its occupants, and every wall can recall some of the fondest memories of our school year. Will you ever forget the evenings we spent around the fire? No, and neither will you forget the gay and exciting weekends at Horn Springs and Rawlings or our dances at the club house.

All of our activities are important in memories, but the companionship we found among our club sisters means much more. Remember the three spooks who met you at the door on Halloween, and remember when it snowed how Miss Kelton helped us make snow ice cream, and what fun it was to all be together. Those afternoons around the victrola and the times we put up the decorations for our dances; it was all worth it. Even the never ending song practices were fun, when we think about them.

Together Jody Mansfield and Betsy Amis started our wonderful year with a rush and did a mighty fine job of it. The whole year was a successful one in many ways. Penta Tau, as always, provided keen competition in all the school activities. In the sports vein Jody, as sport manager, did a grand job of providing the Penta Taus with an excellent team in every sport. Lynda Young and Ann Robertson had a lot to do with all of our fine teams, as did all the girls who participated.

That rose and grey shirt could be seen in every activity on the W-B campus: Jane Allen was associate editor of the MILESTONES, and the staff also included Barbara Roach, Ann Robertson, and Ridgely Duvall; Jeanne Grills was Feature Editor of the Hyphen as well as being president of the Round Table Club; Gwyn Pryor was president of the High School "Y"; Bess Clements was president of the Prep Governing Council for the first half of the year. The Penta Tau's were very proud of their regal Queen of Hearts, Lynn Byer, and of George Washington as portrayed by Ridgely Duvall.

"Penta Tau, Penta Tau, your dear colors rose and grey will lead us out on life's highway as Penta Taus."

"Memories, memories of our club T.C." T.C. girls shall always remember the friendships and pleasures of this year.

September brought Fag Day with the humble new T.C. members posing as clowns. October marked the formal dance; the theme, Halloween, was carried out with witches and black cats. In December the club played Santa Claus to the little boys' department of the Industrial Home. They took toys and gifts and everyone had a marvelous time. The full social calendar included weekends suppers, parties, and numerous other events.

T.C. was represented in Phi Theta Kappa by Paula Bunn and Margaret Cooper. Outstanding in sports were Ann Draper, Kathy Saunders, Maureen MacDonald, Judy Bell Butler, and Mary Jane Heine. Azalce Wight and Margaret Cooper were T.C. participants in the Naiades.

With the enthusiastic guidance of their sponsor, Miss Newhall, and the efficient leadership of their presidents, Mary Jane Heine and Margaret Cooper, the T.C.'s had a very memorable year.

TRI-KCLUB

"We love thee, O Ward-Belmont," is perhaps the best phrase to describe the secret of Tri-K's success. The fun and gaiety are simply the personification of the wonderful spirit which always presides in the little club house on the knoll. The hard work, sorrow, and seeming defeats that come forth from this beloved club house are all just a kind of unwritten constitution for those who love W-B.

The faculty breakfast and the visit to the old ladies home were two of the high points of this year's Tri-K activities and were aptly led by Challie Thornton, sponsor, whose sweet ways endeared her to all, and by Phoebe Monteith, the competent president.

The sports manager for the year was Marilyn Brown, who along with Phoebe Monteith, Jo Ann Paris, and Ann Lewis, president of the Athletic Association, led the list of Tri-K's outstanding athletes. Other outstanding girls this year were Mary Draper Huddleston, president of Phi Theta Kappa, Marilyn Milliken, Vice-President of the high school "Y," Jo Ann Paris and Ann Lewis, members of the "Y" cabinet.

The 1950-51 season has left many enjoyable memories which will live forever in the hearts of old and new girls alike.

The purple and gold banner of X.L. was seen waving amid many phases of campus life this year. Among all the club members who hold these colors up was Pat Neblett, the President X.L. proudly claims as a few of the prexys on campus: Mary Ann Cooper President of the Day Student C.G.O.; Day Student Vice-President of the Senior Class, Katie Stackhouse; Ann Sinclair, President of the French Club and Secretary-Treasurer of the Wordsmith Club; Carolyn Stuts. Asst. Secretary of the C.G.O. The X.L.'s also boast Ellen Kaupke, Editor of the Hyphen, and Jane Winding, Assistant Editor.

The first Club week-end of the year for X.L. was held with P.T. at Horn Springs, and they also enjoyed another one together at Rawlings in the spring.

The first dance on campus for the year 1950-51, was given by X.L., and the theme was "Sophisticated Lady." The big formal dance was held during the winter quarter and the theme of this one was "Winter Wonderland." An informal sock hop was held in the spring, which closed a very successful and enjoyable social year for X.L.

Not only did X.L. have a successful and enjoyable year in Social events, but in sports as well. They won the tennis cup in the fall, beginning a series of sports successes which continued throughout the year.

X.L. also placed in Hockey and was one of the ceded teams in basketball.

A cup which is not associated with sports is the Scholastic cup which the X.L.'s proudly claim. Needless to say, X.L. could not have attained these heights without their capable and cheerful sponsor, Miss Anderson, better known to all X.L. girls as "E. J."

Tri-K, Anti-Pan, and Agora were the three ceded teams on campus, but there were outstanding players on all the teams. Snow interrupted the games; and since Tri-K and Agora were the two top teams, it all ended in a tie.

For every one concerned this fall was well worth all the time and effort. Many grateful thanks to the Physical Education department for their guidance throughout the season, and to each girl who participated on the Hockey field.

There was no doubt that bowling was one of the highlights of the winter gym classes. This was readily proved by the constant rumbling in the gym basement, the full alleys on Saturday afternoons, and numerous complaints about blistered fingers.

But when time drew near for the tourna-

Tri-K defeated X. L. for the cup with F. F. coming in third. Top scorers of the bowling classes were Leila Hentzen, Mary Jane Bumpous, Barbara Clark, and Arlene Zick.

Fair play and good sportsmanship were displayed by all the girls playing in the tournament. The ceded teams in the college tournament were Agora, P. T., Tri-K, and X. L., and although these four teams reached the semifinals, the other six teams offered good competition. Agora beat X. L., and Tri-K defeated P. T. to gain the finals. Lesson well-learned!

The stable on the hill, green grass framed by a dar kblue sky, and a white board fence; this is the setting of the riding ring where dozens of girls are attracted each year through their love for horses and the outdoors.

The greatest honor a rider can obtain is to be invited to join Turf 'n Tanbark, better known as "T 'N T," the honorary riding club that, every year, sponsors two riding shows, in the fall and again in the spring. This year the cup was won by Tri-K with Anti-Pandora second and T. C. third.

One of the most popular sports, riding is offered either as a two-year certificate course or just for pleasure. It is an all-year sport and in any kind of weather one can find Miss Drew and her 'majors' faithfully in the ring. Come rain, sleet, or snow they will be there; and that is part of the thrill and enjoyment of riding.

What form! Bathing beauties!

The Naiades show led by President, Hazel Maxwell, and Vice-President, Gloria Richardson, was one of the highlights of this year's events. The girls did a wonderful job of presenting the theme of their show, "After Dark," with beautiful patterns set off by colored lights. The show consisted of five numbers, the last being the climax. The Ward-Belmont and American flags were carried by swimmers across the pool through a row of girls holding lighted candles. This was a fitting end to a very fine performance.

The meet swimming events got off to a good start this year with Agora winning the cup. The high point girl was Louise Love with the breaking of two records—the 300 free style and the breast stroke; Hazel Maxwell came in with the second highest points; Sally B. Kelly

ARCHERY

Cupids!

There is much more to the seemingly simple sport of archery than meets the eye. Much skill and practice is required to gain the stance, aim, and position that is needed in order to hit the coveted spot—the bull's eye. This is a favorite sport in the spring, and many belles learn to be regular cupids.

Throughout fall and spring days at Ward-Belmont, girls were seen hurrying out to the golf course and quickly selecting their clubs. Soon they were ready to begin and the golf class was once again under way.

Golf was not as easy as it looked; but after learning the fundamentals of the game, the energetic golfers suddenly hit the ball. They then realized the fun they had, and excitedly wanted to learn more. Their reward was given them when they became intermediate golfers and were taken to play on a real golf course.

Golf was not all work but fun too, and it was one of the most popular sports on the Ward-Belmont campus.

Just call me a pro!

Number, please?

The coming of Spring again introduced the birds, the bees, and softball. Every afternoon one could see the club teams practicing as they scurried around the baseball field, knocking 'homers' or catching 'flies.'

The would-be "Babe Ruths" soon found that there is more to baseball than just slugging away at the ball. Quick thinking, even quicker reactions, with eyes always on the ball, were the aims that had to be gained. But the most important aim of all was that of good sportsmanship—the highest goal obtainable.

The Dance Department added much to the development of interest among the students on campus in the art of dance this year. Under the supervision of Miss Ellen Jane Anderson, the dancers participated in many activities around the campus. Among these were the beautiful ballets on George Washington's birthday, and the never to be forgotten dances of May Day!

The recital included this year several interesting numbers. Four ballets were given, two of these by Senior dance majors. There was a classical ballet, a farm scene, a night club scene, and a baseball game portrayed by the Advanced Modern class. The complete program was one of gracefulness and charm, and was enjoyed by the entire student body.

One of the most cherished occasions of the year occurs when the chapel program is turned over to the A.A. for awarding of cups. The A.A. is a very active organization, giving every member of the student body a well-rounded program in sports, through promoting skill, sportsmanship, friendship, and participation. Every student is a member of the A.A., but to become an active member of the governing board she must win a varsity letter or three club letters. Throughout the year the A.A. sponsored the campus tour, square dances, and the inter-hall party. Along with many other exciting events the year was climaxed with a banquet in the Tea Room, The president, Ann Lewis, has been an excellent example of all the ideals of a true sportsman.

Our cheerful Editor "Kayo" we could usually find lost behind copy and write-ups at any time of the day or night. This newspaper work was not all work but added to our joyful memories of Ward-Belmont.

The writing covered guest speakers, sports events, club activities and dorm life. Thus the Hyphen fulfills its purpose in presenting an overall picture of life at Ward-Belmont.

From the first scratch of the pen on a would-be manuscript to the final, much worked over copy of the Chimes, the girls on the literary magazine combine talent, fun, and a lot of hard work to complete it.

As the old saying goes, creativeness is simply 10% talent plus 90% work—and the Chimes staff will agree. But they'll add, too, that the thrill of bringing to print something that's "really good" written by one of you, is every bit worth it.

An inspiring organization is a synonym for the Y.W. C.A. Through faith it fostered spiritual growth in Ward-Belmont students and helped in World Service, Community Service, and Worship Service. Through its small chapel, it brought closer ties of worship among the thinking campus. It brought aid in time of need and comfort in time of worry.

The Old Ladies' Home, the Orphanage Home, and the Crippled Children's Home; the impressive vesper services, the annual picnic and the King and Queen of Hearts banquet, kept in our minds the great help that the Y.W.C.A. gives in making our lives at Ward-Belmont rich and full.

The high school Y.W.C.A. is an organization open to every girl in high school. This organization accomplished much this year toward fellowship and good-will among all students.

Various discussion groups were held with representative speakers from different religious faiths.

From this organization's members, the Prince and Princess of Hearts were chosen.

Under the capable and enthusiastic leadership of Gwin Pryor, weekly Sunday Vespers were held that were both inspirational and entertaining.

All through the year the high school Y.W.C.A. proved that the religious phase of school life is indeed a most important one.

The Wordsmith Club has successfully completed its second year. Its purpose is to stimulate creative writing among college students. This aim is accomplished by the members submitting writings of various types to be criticized and commented upon by the other members of leclub. Several guest speakers addressed the club throughout the year enabling the girls to learn about other writers. In order to become a member of the Wordsmith Club, it is necessary to submit an original writing to be judged by the club members. Invitations are then issued to the girls who have shown their interest and ability through their English courses.

The club was divided into interest groups. Each group was responsible for a program during the year which made the meetings varied and interesting. At Christmas the members had the pinata and sangearols in Spanish. In April, the club celebrated Pan American Day by having a meal with a Spanish menu. The club by its activities has made Spain and Spanish customs more real and interesting to the members.

The Reporters Club is made up of all the reporters from the different organizations and clubs. These girls who were elected have certain writing abilities. CONSERVATORY

Music was included as an important part of the curricula of Ward's Seminary and Belmont College. The Ward-Belmont Consevatory of Music was one of the first junior college members of the National Association of Schools of Music. It prepares music students in a thorough way to meet the exacting demands of the best Senior colleges and music schools in America. It also offers to the academic student that musical culture which is an essential part of education. Emphasis is placed on superior performance and on a broad cultural and artistic background.

The conservatory has assembled a faculty of highly trained teachers. Each member has been chosen because of genuine musicianship, teaching ability, and personality. Most members have had extensive experience as concert artists.

The conservatory encourages all students to participate in some form of ensemble music under faculty direction. Experience gained in these groups tends to produce a high grade of musicianship and to develop a permanent love of participation in group music. Among these are the Choir, Ensemble, Glee Club, Mu Sigma Phi, and the Music Club.

Sunday evening, June third, the Seniors paid tribute to the Mids with their annual step singing. They were singing good-bye to their class, their school, and the girls they were leaving behind them. Following this the Mids sang to the Seniors. The songs sung by both classes reflected an ever-present warmth of love and gratitude towards their Ward-Belmont. All the girls were dressed in their traditional white and stood on the steps of the Academic Building. The occasion was one of sadness as the chimes played "The Bells of Ward-Belmont" and both classes joined in the singing. A glorious year at Ward-Belmont was drawing to a close, yet all its cherished traditions will long remain with every girl.

STEP SINGING

G R A D U A T I O N

"Alone We Stumble in Darkness—Together We Find the Light." These two lines hold a great significance for us—the Seniors of 1951. They symbolize our hopes and aspirations for building together a better today. We realize that alone we can do nothing—together we can accomplish wonders. Unity is the basic element of our progress, but without our abiding faith in God, we can not hope to push aside the darkness and find the light.

We should strive to make the most of today and its opportunities. For the only way to prepare for the future is to do today's work superbly—today. Think not of the dear vesterdays or of the unborn tomorrows, "Lord, for tomorrow and its needs, I do not pray. Keep me, guide me, love me, Lord, through each to-day,"

We are standing this very second at the meeting place of two eternities—of the past and of the future. Yet we must be content to live the only time we can—today! With faith in God, and daily putting to the best use our own abilities, we will ultimately realize the goal for which we seek.

Now we realize that day—the day we don caps and gowns and walk slowly toward Acklen Hall. As we wind our way across the campus, we catch one fleeting glimpse of those things that whave known and loved so well—the Tower, looking down on us for the last time: Pembroke Hall—almost re-echoing the shared laughter and happiness of a year: everywhere—the campus full of memories, will be saying good-bye—"We will be parting as Seniors have parted before—But the glorious spirit of old '51, will linger for ever more!"

THIS BOOK DESIGNED AND PRINTED BY

PRINTING COMPANY & NASHVILLE

College Annuals

This brings to an end the MILESTONES of 1951 and possibly the end of the MILESTONES of all times. The entire staff has worked together putting in long hours in order to make up the pages that compose this volume. However, it is not only the labor which has gone into the compilation of the things to be found in this cover; but it is the spirit in which this labor was done. Although every member of the staff has at sometime or other felt as if there was no end, their everpresent enthusiasm was soon revived in order to plunge into the next task.

I truly believe that I could not have had two more indispensable associate editors than I did. There was never a time when they did not do everything they were asked to do and more, too. It was due to their efforts that the photographer knew the exact time and place for each picture to be made. Even though I could go on and on in praise of my associate editors, I could do the same for the other members of the staff. The business staff spent many months soliciting ads along with the literary staff that cooperated so beautifully in doing the write-ups. Without the wonderful workers who were the high school representatives we would have been in many a tight spot when the deadlines rolled around.

This roll call of honor would not be complete without our sponsor Miss Polly Fessey. It was through her that we found an unsurpassable leadership. Whenever the going got rough, "Polly" was always there to cheer us up and help us out.

We should express special gratitude to our photographer Mr. Martin Sewell, who so willingly cooperated with the staff at all times. This note could not be brought to a fitting close without recognition of the splendid work done by both Benson Printing Company and Southern Engravers. In fact this book would not have been brought to a close without the endeavors of these two firms.

Thus we pass to you, the reader, this last MILESTONES to praise or to criticize according to your own judgment.

CAROLYN TOMPKINS, Editor, MILESTONES '51
